A story of Excellence

Although 1983 earmarked the birth of Cristel, the actual expertise of the manpower goes way back to 1826 and the construction of the Feschotte factory in Franche-Comté where the first tinfoil saucepan was deep-drawn by Japy Frères.

Over a century later, in 1987, urged by the Dodane family, Cristel launched its first collections of top-end frying pans and saucepans with removable handle. As the final touch to its growing success, the company policy turned to innovation and quality contributed to the expansion of the business and its products.

The combination between man's know-how and machine intelligence gives rise to simple to use products, efficient techniques and second-to-none design.

Today, in keeping with its values, Cristel is the high flyer of the top end tableware sector.

A black and white photograph showing a close-up of a hand holding a silver ring. The ring has the word "CRISTEL" engraved on its top surface in a bold, sans-serif font. The hand is positioned in the center of the frame, with the fingers slightly curled around the ring. The background is dark and out of focus, emphasizing the ring and the hand. The lighting is soft, highlighting the metallic texture of the ring and the skin of the hand.
